This has been the biggest waste of time and money. At the most MS should have been issued a cease and desist. They are a big boy company that has provided a lot of wealth for many began and industry and has made Seattle a versatile city and not being dependent on Boeing. Perhaps there are a few winners out there that could not compete but for heaven sake lets get on with this. We need to get our economy going and stop worrying the outcome of MS and will this mean the JD is going to examine everything that is done in American free enterprise business.
